Kenya Armed Forces

The LINDA NCHI operation represented a turning point for the Kenyan Armed Forces, at present being committed in a thorough modernization programme including projects involving the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The shipborne UAVs

The increasingly important role played by the unmanned vehicles in the whole spectrum of military operations could not overlook, of course, the UAVs (Unmanned Aerial Vehicle) deployment from naval platforms. The UAVs allow to extend the coverage well beyond of what radar and electro-optical sensors can reach. In most cases, helicopters and UAVs are complementary: this means a ship can use either one of the two, or both.

Interview with the Chief of Italian Navy Staff

In an interview the Chief of the Italian Navy Staff, Vice Admiral Valter Girardelli gave to RID, he dealt with the hottest current issues involving the Marina Militare. From the evolving scenarios and the related Navy activities to fleet renovation and new ships being built, up to future Navy employments and its interoperability with other Armed Forces.
