Contents

Editorial: Conventional thinking is fashion
Stefan Nitschke

The Plotting Table
Letter from Washington
Edward Lundquist
Letter from Brussels
Caterina Tani
Baltic region increases in strategic significance, says new Royal Swedish Navy Chief, Rear Admiral Ewa Skoog Haslum
Lee Willett

Spotlight
Piracy – Still threatening sea lines of communication
Robert Czulda

Special Focus
Electronic Warfare
Decepting the threat – Countermeasures in missile defence
Dr. Norman Friedman

Title
Flexible forces – Frigate developments balance flexibility and speciality for the Euro-Atlantic theatre
Dr. Lee Willett

Feature
Littoral Warfare –
Certain future – Fast patrol/attack craft take tough roles
Massimo Annati

 Expeditionary Warfare – Naval gunfire support –
New ammunition matches missiles with lower cost
Stefan Nitschke

Naval Strike – Strike resurgence – French, UK carrier air wings add punch to CSG presence in the North Atlantic
Dr. Lee Willett

Safety & Protection –
Stream attack – Navies must refresh ship air defence
Sarosh Bana

Sensors – AESA radars – Where will industry refocus its efforts?
Dr. Norman Friedman

C4I – Tactical sea-air-shore communications –
Network effectiveness and survivability needs more nodes
Edward Lundquist

Air & Space – Naval tactical UAS – Tough choices for a new era
Stefan Nitschke

Special Operations – Putting out a really great capability –
Marine raiders and commando seek better weapons, equipment
Stephen W. Miller

Logistics & MRO – “If delays are encountered, then everyone has failed” – Stability, predictability reduces risk for warship maintenance, repair and overhaul
Edward Lundquist

Special Ship
The Batch 2 River class offshore patrol vessel –
How the R2s change things
Jon Lake

Regional Focus
War games – DPRK Navy modernization takes aim at over-the-horizon strike capability
Joshua Cohen

No experimentation –
First island chain security boosts Philippine Navy modernization
Robert Czulda

Presence in the present
South African Navy seeks to build capability to meet today’s tasks at sea
Dr. Lee Willett

From the Naval Services
Dossier
Impressum / Index of Advertisers